Introduction to the enhanced recovery programme

The enhanced recovery programme aims to improve the care provided to women and decrease the length of hospital stay following elective caesarean section delivery. We are trying to naturalise the process and improve the patient experience and satisfaction. This means that you will be offered to go home after 24 hours (next day) following planned elective caesarean sections.

You have been given this option because we anticipate that your caesarean section will be straightforward and you wish to go home at the earliest opportunity. The benefit of early discharge after surgery is minimal disruption to your family life, and there are not known to be any increased risks for you or your baby.
Preparations for your Caesarean Section

At antenatal clinic - once the decision for a caesarean delivery is made, you will be provided with caesarean section and enhanced recovery patient information leaflets and you will be assessed for whether or not you are suitable for next day discharge.
Day prior to surgery:

At pre-assessment you will be given advice on pre-operative fasting and a prescription for some medication you will need before your caesarean section.

This will include:

Evening prior to surgery;

- You can eat a carbohydrate-rich supper (such as rice, pasta or pizza).
- At 10:00 pm take Ranitidine (an antacid) 150 mg.
- You can eat light diet (such as toast and cereal) until midnight.
Day of surgery:

- You are advised to take No more food after midnight and continue to drink water only.

- At 06:00 am take Ranitidine (an antacid) 150 mg and Metoclopramide (anti sickness tab) 10 mg.

- At 07:00 am you can drink one of the following to enhance recovery:
  - Black tea/coffee (max 400 mls) + two sugars – with small amount of milk (15 mls/one tablespoon)
  - Fruit squash (max – 400 mls),
  - Clear apple juice (max 400 mls)

- No more food or fluid after 07:00 am.

- Bring a dressing gown that will keep you warm and inform staff if you feel cold. It is important to keep warm to reduce the risk of postoperative complications.

If your surgery is at York hospital, please attend ward G2 promptly at 07.30 am.
If you are going to be delayed please call 01904 726002.

If your surgery is at Scarborough hospital, please attend the Labour ward promptly at 07.30 am.
If you are going to be delayed please call 01723 342124.
During Caesarean Section

The majority of elective caesarean sections are straightforward, but like any other significant operation there are risks involved. If there are any complications during your caesarean section it may not be appropriate for you to go home the next day. Your surgeon will inform you if this is the case.

Recovering after your Caesarean Section

You should begin to eat and drink as soon as you feel able to after the caesarean section, this will help your body to recover quickly. A caesarean section is a major abdominal operation and pain following the operation is to be expected. You will usually have been given a painkiller by suppository whilst in the operating theatre and you will be offered regular pain relief on the post-natal ward. As soon as possible after your operation, the staff will help you to have a wash and sit out of bed. This is important to reduce the risk of thrombosis (blood clots). Once you have got up and out of bed and after six hours from your operation, your catheter can be removed and the midwife will make sure you are able to pass urine properly.

You will be given assistance to care for and feed your baby on ward if you need it and a midwife will check you are happy with this before you are discharged.
At home

You will be provided with painkillers to take home. You can take painkillers for as long as you need them. You will be visited by a community midwife the day after you go home. If you have any concerns or questions when you are home you should contact us by phoning the labour ward of the hospital where you had your operation.
