Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974

The Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 (as amended) helps rehabilitated ex-offenders back into work by allowing them not to declare criminal convictions after the rehabilitation period set by the Court has elapsed and the convictions become 'spent'. During the rehabilitation period, convictions are referred to as 'unspent' convictions and must be declared to employers.

The organisation aims to promote equality of opportunity and is committed to treating all applicants for positions fairly and on merit regardless of ethnicity, disability, age, gender or gender re-assignment, religion or belief, sexual orientation, pregnancy or maternity and marriage or civil partnership. The organisation undertakes not to discriminate unfairly against applicants on the basis of a criminal conviction or other information declared.

You are required to declare all current 'unspent' criminal convictions or cautions (including reprimands and final warnings). You are not required to disclose convictions or cautions which have become 'spent'.

As part of assessing your application, organisations will only take into account relevant criminal record and other information declared which is relevant to the position being applied for.

Answering 'yes' to the question below: will not necessarily bar you from appointment. This will depend on the relevance of the information you provide in respect of the nature of the position for which you are applying and the particular circumstances.

Are you currently bound over or do you have any current 'unspent' convictions or cautions (including reprimands or warnings) that have been issued by a Court or Court-Martial in the United Kingdom or in any other country?

Yes

No

If Yes, please include details of the order binding you over and/or the nature of the offence, the penalty, sentence or order of the Court, and the date and place of the Court hearing. You do not need to tell us about parking offences.

Part C. Applicants declaration

Declaration

The information in this form is true and complete. I agree that any deliberate omission, falsification or misrepresentation in the application form will be grounds for rejecting this application or subsequent dismissal if employed by the organisation.

I agree to the above declaration

Your personal information – what you need to know

Electronic Staff Record

On commencement of employment with the Trust, your personal data will be uploaded to the Electronic Staff Record (ESR). ESR is a workforce solution for the NHS which is used by the Trust to effectively manage the workforce leading to improved efficiency and improved patient safety.

- Staff should be fully informed about how their information may be used
- There are strict conditions under which personal data may be disclosed
- Certain disclosures are not permitted without the express consent of the individual
- Individuals have the right to see what information is held about them, and to have any errors corrected
- Personal information should be anonymised wherever possible
- The legitimate use, disclosure or sharing of personal data does not constitute a breach of confidentiality
- Sharing of personal data between organisations can take place with appropriate safeguards
- Sometimes a judgement has to be made about the balance between the duty of confidence and disclosure in the public interest. Any such disclosure must be justified
- Personal data should be kept secure and confidential at all times.

Why We Collect Information about You

The Trust needs to collect information from you to:

- Ensure that you are paid your salary
- To monitor your well-being and progression

What is the National Fraud Initiative?

NHS England is required to protect the public funds it administers. It may share information provided to it with other bodies responsible for; auditing, or administering public funds, or where undertaking a public function, in order to prevent and detect fraud.

The Cabinet Office is responsible for carrying out data matching exercises.

Data matching involves comparing computer records held by one body against other computer records held by the same or another body to see how far they match. This is usually personal information. Computerised data matching allows potentially fraudulent claims and payments to be identified. Where a match is found it may indicate that there is an inconsistency which requires further investigation. No assumption can be made as to whether there is fraud, error or other explanation until an investigation is carried out.

We participate in the Cabinet Office's National Fraud Initiative: a data matching exercise to assist in the prevention and detection of fraud. We are required to provide particular sets of data to the Minister for the Cabinet Office for matching for each exercise, as detailed here. The use of data by the Cabinet Office in a data matching exercise is carried out with statutory authority under Part 6 of the Local Audit and Accountability Act 2014. It does not require the consent of the individuals concerned.

How Do I Know That My Information Is Safe?

We take our duty to protect your personal information and confidentiality very seriously and we are committed to taking all reasonable measures to ensure the confidentiality and security of personal data for which we are responsible, whether computerised or on paper. Staff that have access to information about individuals need to use it effectively, whilst maintaining appropriate levels of confidentiality.

Subject Access

Under the General Data Protection Regulation, you have a right to access the information held about you. For Subject Access Requests relating to employment records, contact the HR Team.
