It's time to say Goodbye

Bianca Cipriano, Project Manager will be leaving the Project team to work directly for Macmillan as Partnership and Quality Lead. It is a fantastic opportunity for her and we wish her well. Bianca has been a driving force behind the project.

Lana Hillen's secondment has come to an end. Lana worked with our team as Project Support Officer and has been instrumental in setting up and delivering the Breast eHNA clinic. We are sorry to say good bye and wish her well.

Leigh Brand will be leading on the eHNA and Treatment Summary, please don't hesitate to get in touch - Direct Line: 01723 342582 Ext: 2582.

Delivery Plans

Thank you to all the teams that have created the delivery plans. The teams will be responsible for adhering to the deadlines, along with the Care Group Managers. The data will be shared through the Cancer Delivery Group monthly and the CNS teams quarterly.

Support to achieve the delivery plan targets will be provided by Leigh Brand.

Training and support in ongoing for the Treatment Summary.

Cancer Survivorship Day

We will be holding the 3rd annual Cancer Survivorship event which provides information and support. More details to follow.

Treatment Summary Implementation

Colorectal and Upper GI have implemented the Treatment Summary as part of their Nurse-led clinics. We continue offer support to roll this out with other teams.
