

Diabetic eye screening: important information about coronavirus (COVID-19)

Guidance to keep you safe when attending your screening appointment

As a result of the NHS responding to the coronavirus pandemic, you may have waited longer than normal for your diabetic eye screen.

It is important that you now attend your screening test. Delaying your screening further may put you at increased risk of developing diabetic retinopathy (eye disease or sight loss).

Travelling to and from your appointment

When travelling to and from your appointment, please follow the government guidelines. For more details, go to www.gov.uk and search 'staying safe outside your home'.

Wearing a face covering

In line with government advice, when attending your appointment, you must wear a face covering. For guidance on how to wear and make a face covering, visit www.gov.uk and search for 'face covering'.

At your appointment please be aware:

- your appointment may not be at your usual venue
- social distancing measures will be in place in the screening clinic
- staff may be wearing protective clothing to protect you and them
- staff may take your temperature on arrival
- the screening appointment may take longer than usual

If you or any member of your household is suffering from any of the symptoms associated with COVID-19 or are self-isolating as outlined at www.gov.uk/coronavirus please DO NOT attend the appointment.

If you have been shielding because you are clinically extremely vulnerable and you have concerns about the arrangements for your appointment, please contact your local screening service.

Similarly, if you are unable to attend, please contact your local screening service to reschedule your appointment for a different time. This is important so we can offer the appointment slot to someone else who needs it.
