

Sexual Health Service Privacy Notice

Why are we collecting your information?

This Privacy Notice has been written to inform you that York and Scarborough Teaching Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust (the Trust) processes information about you in order to provide sexual health care services.

This information will be used to provide free sexually transmitted infection (STI) testing and treatment, to notify sexual partners of people who have been diagnosed with an STI for the diagnoses and management of various specified STIs and for the provision of contraception, counselling and social support.

In addition, information is required to provide performance data including numbers of new service users, first attendance, follow up appointments, waiting times and other quality measures.

Who do we collect your information from?

- Directly from yourselves
- Sexual partners that may have given us your details
- External provider partners that may have given us your details, such as GPs, community nurses, social workers etc
- We also work with Preventx to provide a postal screening service for STIs. The Trust only access and record details of positive test results.

To see Preventx privacy information please go to: <https://www.test.me/privacy>

Who are we?

The Trust is a 'Data Controller', this means that we determine the purposes for which, and the manner in which, your personal data is processed. We have a responsibility to you and your personal data and will only collect and use this in ways which are compliant with data protection legislation.

The Trust has appointed Rebecca Bradley (Head of Information Governance) to be its Data Protection Officer (DPO). The role of the DPO is to ensure that the Trust is compliant with Data Protection legislation and to oversee data protection procedures.
