Your child did not react during a drug provocation test for the de-labelling of their drug allergy. They had:

Drug _____

Dose _____ mg

On _____

No signs or symptoms of an immediate allergic reaction were observed today. Successful completion of this test shows that your child is not allergic to _____

This means that they can be prescribed this medication, if needed, in the future. Your GP will be informed.

Caring for your child at home after the challenge

It is important that your child remains under adult supervision overnight. Most reactions are immediate or occur soon after being given the drug. Very rarely a delayed reaction can occur (including a rash, eczema flare or gastrointestinal symptoms). These can be treated with a dose of antihistamines.

If you have any concerns at all in the 24 hours following the drug provocation test, please contact your nearest hospital:
