Please keep this information where you can easily find it

You are about to have a course of SACT (Systemic Anti-Cancer Therapy). People undergoing SACT can suffer side-effects. Most importantly, your ability to fight infection is reduced by the treatment you are receiving.

If any symptoms of infection are left untreated, you may become very ill, very quickly. You may be at risk of developing neutropenic sepsis - a very serious infection.

Your consultant and nurse will discuss these issues with you in clinic and will stress the importance that no symptoms should be ignored no matter how minor you may think they are.

It is very important that you contact us immediately if you feel unwell, have any signs of infection or any new symptoms.

The most common and important symptoms are:

- A high temperature - feeling hot or cold and shivery; please check your temperature with a thermometer.
- A normal temperature should be between 36°C and 37°C.

Remember, you can still be unwell without having a high temperature.

- A cough or sore throat.
- A burning feeling when you pass urine or discomfort around your back passage.
- Feeling sick or vomiting.
- Having more than four runny stools a day despite taking the medicines you have been prescribed. If you have not been prescribed any medication you must ring us.
- Redness, swelling or oozing around the exit site of a PICC or Hickman Line (if applicable)
